TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 25, 1848.

[No. 5314.]

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
HARRIS' ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West India and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

fords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

dicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

ly removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

To the friends of Humanity.

A NA good, infirm, and widowed mother, is desirous to receive information of of THOMAS BURTON CARTER, an only son, concerning whom she has not heard any thing, on which reliance can be placed, for nearly three years. He removed from this place to the state of Ohio about five years ago. The last certain account she had from him, was from Cadiz in that state. He is about twenty five years of age; by trade a tailor. Vague rumour has recently pronounced him dead. A letter communicating information relative to him, directed to Henry Tutwiler, P. M. at this place, would confer a peculiar kindness on an afflicted woman.

French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents:
HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.
With this view I have purchased the FRENCH CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Norristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pike-land and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniences for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.
In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their age, nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter.
The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to

PROPOS 25
for publishing by subscription, a new work, entitled.

THE TREASURY OF HEALTH: ON
A complete collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine, for the cure of all diseases; wounds and other accidents to which the human body is subject; with the method of preparing, and instructions for using, the necessary remedies.
Also, the best preservatives against the plague, small pox, and all other kinds of contagious diseases.—Discovered after much research and experience by the most skillful physicians in Europe, and employed with the greatest success; and unknown till the present time in the United States.
Carefully collected, by a Benevolent Society;
and faithfully translated from the French, and other foreign languages, And published for the benefit of humanity,
BY LEWIS MERLIN.

TO THE PUBLIC.
The work which is this day offered for public usefulness, ought not to be looked upon as those which a desire of gain bring forth every day among us. This is a rare and precious collection of the most valuable secrets in medicine, which the most skillful physicians have discovered after long researches, labor and experience. It is, without contradiction, the first of the kind that has ever appeared within the United States of America, and a treasure which every head of a family could not too much appreciate; as it points out the symptoms of several diseases, of which many persons are only acquainted with their names; 2d, the receipt of the quantity and quality of the drugs that are made use of; 3d, their preparations so carefully described and detailed that the least intelligent person cannot be mistaken; and finally the necessary doses and the manner of administering them.
One may rest assured that all in this collection is easy to put into practice, the expense is trifling because all the simples and plants which compose the greatest part of the recipes it contains, may be found in the fields and in the gardens; in a word, that it affords the means of curing, in a short time, all the diseases and evils with which one may be addicted, and at a low expense.

It is to a benevolent society we are indebted for such a precious treasure.
Their whole good wish towards suffering humanity, induced that society to spare neither pains, care nor expense in obtaining from all parts of the globe, and to give in one and only collection, a valuable and complete selection of receipts for the cure of all diseases with which the human body is every day afflicted, which their renowned virtues, the repeated experience that has been made of them, even on patients who had been given up by their physicians, and the cures resulting from them, have caused them to be adopted as sovereign and infallible remedies.

Amongst the great number of diseases that have been cured by these inestimable secrets, we shall only name some of them, of which the foreign journals and American newspapers have borne the most authenticated testimony, such as apoplexy, asthma, bilious, windy and nephretic colic, consumption of lungs, debility, dysentery, diarrhoea, dropsy in the breast, in the brain, compound dropsy, anar-sarque of ascites, epilepsy, diseases of the eyes, intermittent, tertian, quar-tan, continual and inflammatory fevers, malignant, spotted and scarlet fevers, hives (so fatal to children), inflammation of the bowels, of the liver and lungs, gangrene, itch, jaundice, fits, hooping-cough, lethargy, leprosy, rheumatism, pulmonary, scurvy, swellings, sore throat, worms, tape-worm, complaints of the bowels, looseness or bloody flux, folly or madness originated after a sequel of disease, or through an intemperate use of spirituous liquors, cold and scia-tique gouts, gravels, gonorrhoea, hydrophobia, bite of venomous animals, hemorrhage, palpitation of the heart, stone, &c. &c.

This precious collection contains likewise a great number of receipts for preparing several kinds of balsams, ointment or salves, with the manner of using them, and the effects of which are so surprising, that they cure in a very short time, the cancers, without the assistance of any operation; the king's evil, tetter, or ring's worm, wens; all sorts of cuts, wounds, however large and deep they may be, both inward and outward hemorroids, all pains and swellings arising from rheumatism, all kinds of burns, all cataracts of the eyes, even those that deprive of the sight; all sores that come on women's breasts; all kinds of sore legs and ulcers, however old they may be; chancres, bu-boes, and other venereal disorders; they join the nerves again, when they have been cut or broken in any manner whatever; they strengthen weak nerves and prevent the palsy whenever one is threatened with it; they draw out broken bones and all other foreign bodies that may be in sores or wounds; in short, these ointments or salves do possess such a virtue against the gangrene, that many persons being at the point of having their legs, hands or fingers cut off, have been entirely cured by the application of these ointments alone.

In this interesting work will be also found the inestimable receipt of the grand preventives against the plague, pestilential, spotted and other fevers, small pox, and all kinds of contagious diseases; their preparations with the manner of making use of them both inwardly and outwardly, as well to preserve ourselves against the contagion as to be cured whenever one is afflicted with them; and wonderful and most valuable secrets in medicine —always employed with success, and never failed to cure in epidemic and contagious diseases, and unknown to the present time in the United States of America.

In short, the famous and renowned syrup of long life, or the great preservator of health, whose so extraordinary virtues have drawn the attention of a great number of physicians, although the desire of gain has endeavored to counterfeit or imitate it, but always without success. That receipt so very simple, so very easy to prepare, and of a good taste, was given by an old gentleman of one hundred and thirty two years of age, who began to make use of it at the age of 80 without his having ever experienced the least inconvenience. The good effects which this simple receipt has always produced on the persons who have made use of it are so well known that no more need to be said on that subject; and although this work contains a great number more of other receipts and other matters not less interesting for the human body, we shall not dwell any longer on the benefits arising to the public out of this precious collection; because it is only by putting what is taught in it into practice, that the public will be convinced of the truth that there is no quackery nor deception in all that has been said, but many truths which could not be too much appreciated.

We recommend this work to heads of families, more particularly to those who reside in the country, who owing to their situation are often deprived of medical assistance in cases of the most urgent necessity; it is likewise of the greatest utility to those who through their profession are obliged to visit the sick; as also to the ministers and pastors of congregations, who in their situation are likewise obliged to afford relief to suffering humanity; in short, it could not be too much recommended to captains, masters of vessels, seafaring men and other travellers, who frequent warm climates, as well as to those persons who have a desire to preserve their own health; so much the more, as (we repeat it again) that all therein contained is easy to put in practice, and the expense is small.

As the publication of this work is not an object of a pecuniary speculation, but the welfare of humanity generally, we have endeavored, as well as the expense has permitted, to fix the price of subscription as low as possible, in order that the poor as well as the rich may be able to obtain it, and experience its good effects principally in warm seasons, and in cases of contagious diseases.

CONDITIONS.
To render this work more portable, and comply with the wishes of many persons, it will form a large volume in 12mo. to be printed on good paper and good type, and delivered neatly bound and lettered to subscribers at 160 cents, to non-subscribers, the price will be enhanced to two dollars, and the profit arising from it will be for the benefit of the poor.

As soon as the subscription will be sufficient to defray the expense of printing, the work will be put to press and distributed as soon as circumstances will permit.
To prevent counterfeiting this work, the copy right has been secured according to law; and moreover each copy shall be signed by the person who has the sole direction of superintending the publication of it.

SELECTED.

THE RUINS.

BY BELLECK OSBORN.
I've seen in twilight's pensive hour,
The moss-clad dome, the mould'ring tower, In awful ruin stand—
That dome where grateful voices sung, That tower whose chiming music rung, Majestically grand;
I've seen, 'mid sculptur'd pride, the tomb Where heroes slept in silent gloom Unconscious of their fame—Those who, with laurel'd honors crown'd, Among their foes spread terror round,
And gain'd an empty name!
I've seen in death's dark palace laid,
The ruins of a beautiful maid, Cadaverous and pale!
That maiden, who, while life remain'd, O'er rival charms in triumph reign'd
The mistress of the vale.
I've seen, where daisies damply abide,
A youth, admir'd in manhood's pride, In fancied greatness rave;
He who, in reason's happier day,
Was virtuous, witty, noble, gay, Learn'd, generous and brave.

Nor dome, nor tower, in twilight shade—Nor hero fall'n, nor beautiful maid—To ruin all consign'd!
Can with such pathos touch my breast,
As (on the marble's form impress'd)
The ruin of a noble mind.
From the New-England Galaxy.

THE LEAVES DROPPER.

OR BETWEEN YOU AND I.
How I overhead does not concern the public, but I heard—The Prince Regent said to the Marquis of Hertford, "There is a great mis-going—between you and I."
I heard Mr. Clay say to the President—when your official term expires, I shall tip you with "three bullets and a bragger, for there will be a rubber, between you and I."
I heard Gen. Dearborn say to the shade of Putnam, "that is a very disreputable business—between you and I."
I heard Miss Fanny Fudge say to Mr. Tim Dandy—"two corsets are one too many—between you and I."
I heard the emperor of China say to Lord Amherst, "put your nose on the ground seven times and then let the ocean be—between you and I."
I heard Louis XVIII say to Bonaparte, "the glory and independence of France are lost—between you and I."
I heard the Princess of Lingenan say to the Duke of Kent, "I been dinkin mine tear of von little king—between you and I."
I heard Spain say to the United States—"there will be some battle but no war—between you and I."
I heard the Field Marshal say to General Hagerman—"that was a sorry affair—between you and I and the post."

A LOVE LETTER.

FROM A TAILOR TO A MANTUA MAKER.
Remnant of my hopes—May I be ripped from the borders of your esteem, and never be buttoned to the loop of your kindness, but I am strongly seamed to the hem of your beauty: may I never lose a thimble full of your favor, but you have so entangled the thread of my understanding with that pretty outside of yours, that I am stark mad to be your Ods-bodkins! I am surely yours, every stitch of me. Wherever you go, you are my North, and my needle follows you; but not therefore, the point of my endeavors, but let me baste myself to your kindness, that I may set the tighter to your affections. I love you beyond measure, but yet it is so hard to cabbage one sweet look from you, that I almost despair of having enough to finish my suit.
Pray put a favorable construction on this, and for the same, I shall always sit cross-legged for your sake, being, my dearest little flosser, Yours, P. C.

The town of Montez, Cayuga county, produced last year, 9,242 yards of woolen and 10,407 yards of linen cloth, and 23,645 lbs. Maple Sugar.

A London paper notices, as a great grievance, that the election will scatter no less than two millions through the country. [It might have been added, that most of this sum would come out of the pockets of the candidates.]

The Virginia board of Commissioners, appointed to consider the subject, have recommended that the proposed State University shall be erected in Charlottesville, where Mr. Madison resides.

ALEXANDRIA:
TUESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1818.

We have from time to time taken some pains to caution our youth against the oratory of Mr. Phillips, the Irish barrister, because while we consider it as likely to mislead their plastic minds into a very bad taste, we were aware that it possessed a fascination of a most irresistible kind, which nothing but the exposure of its defects and some ridicule, could possibly encounter with the slightest hope of success. It is with the most unfeigned pleasure that we find ourselves now enabled to come forward in that gentleman's unqualified praise, and to quote from himself a piece of eloquence which we have no hesitation to offer as a model of that pure, unaffected, persuasive, simple and powerful kind, which will ever be able to bid defiance to criticism, and to silence the sneers and animadversions of the most fastidious cavillers.—We allude to that beautiful effusion, as honorable to his heart as to his genius, with which he hushed the uproar and fury of the Dublin mob, in their late outrageous and outrageous attack upon Mr. Grattan.

If this short specimen of eloquence be carefully compared with the speeches of Mr. Phillips, sometime published, it will be found to differ from them in almost every essential, except in the value of the object; for in those, as in this we now allude to, his objects were generally deserving of approbation—and we cannot conceive a more admirable lesson for young students, who have their taste yet to form, than may be deduced from such a comparison.—Drawn forth by an unexpected emergency, which was calculated to rouse all the feelings of a generous susceptible soul, and all the indignation of a just and lofty mind, the faculties of the man were too entirely occupied with the substantial part of the subject before him, to admit of any idle deviations from it into the wild paths of fancy, in search of flowers for its ornament; and the man, not the orator, was uppermost.—His cause, not a vain display of rhetorical talents, held possession of him, and the consequence was, that his simple unadorned detail of truth, at once flashed conviction on the hearts of his rugged auditors. A stronger proof of the power of genuine simple eloquence over the stubbornness of human souls cannot be produced, than the effect of this speech upon the Dublin mob. It is indeed a sample of unadorned eloquence, to which Quintilian would have been proud to give a page in his commonplace book.

Nor is it as a lesson in eloquence that this specimen may be useful. Coupled with the transaction that gave rise to it, and its instant effects upon the auditors, it presents a valuable admonition to a certain class, and we fear, that the most numerous of our ambitious young statesmen, who set out in the trade of politics, as multitudes of our new store-keepers do, on false capital—their whole stock being the art of popularity-hunting, and the old tale—too stale and putrid one might naturally suppose to be used with success as a bait, and too false to be believed by themselves—of the sovereign judgment of the rabble—"the fool multitude who choose by show." Let our sticklers for the duty of representatives be instructed by their constituents, now condescend to be instructed by this lesson of undeniable fact, and conclude what the effect and character of their conduct as legislators must be, if governed by the capricious decisions of a multitude.—The Dublin mob, the mere slaves of their blind, infuriate passions, are this moment resolutely bent upon assassinating a man (that man their best benefactor too)—may, would him with a stone in the forehead, and in five minutes after (blown about by the wind of a few words) they give him the homage of their applause; and are all at once so entirely enamored with him, without any one motive, of which they were not in the outset in possession, that the orator who defends him is fain to interfere and by a representation of his unfitness for enduring it, to procure him an amnesty from their further carcases.—Shakespeare's Coriolanus contains nothing to surpass this lively exemplification of popular fickleness. When Coriolanus, who had (after a life of services to Rome) been banished by the people on the artful insinuations of their demagogues, returns with an army to drag them, the quick fluctuation of the popular voice is exquisitely pictured in the speeches of the citizens—

Menenius. If he could burn us all into one coal, we have deserved it.
Omnos. Faith, we hear fearful news.
1st Citizen. For mine own part, when I said, banish him, I said it was a pity.
2nd Citizen. And so did I.
3rd Citizen. And so did I; and, to say the truth, so did very many of us: That we did, we did for the best; and though we willingly consented to his banishment, yet it was against our will.
1st Citizen. The gods be good to us! come masters, let's home. I ever said we were the wrong when we banished him.
2nd Citizen. So did we all—but come, let's home.
Yet this does not surpass what passed in Dublin, and what ever will take place in similar circumstances.

THE CANAL.

Our readers will be gratified to learn that these now appears some prospect that the long contemplated canal on Merrimack river, will eventually be made. We understand a committee are now, or have been recently, engaged in "taking a view of the whole ground," to ascertain the distance, the most suitable route, the extent of the falls, between Pawtucket-falls and Andover bridge. We sincerely hope the committee will pursue, and that the monied men will second, their efforts, till this important object shall be accomplished.

FROM HAYTI.

A letter from Jaquemet, dated July 17th, mentions "that Christophe had advanced within 13 leagues of Port-au-Prince, with a considerable force, that he sent deputies to the Generals of the republic, inviting them to submit to him, but met with no encouragement; and retreated, before President Boyer had time to attack him; and that the government of the republic was much better administered than formerly."

Part of the above contradicts other advices from Hayti, which affirm, that Christophe's journey was merely one of amusement;—that he had his family and household, but no troops, with him; and that he halted at St. Marks a fortnight for no other purpose than to ascertain if the inhabitants of the southern provinces, on the death of Petion, preferred the government of Boyer to his own. It is true, Christophe travelled in great style, having, including his family, nobility and retinue, no less than 5000 persons. These might have occasioned some alarm at Port-au-Prince. But if Boyer really intended to have attacked Christophe at St. Marks, it was contrary to his avowed policy, which is peace, cultivation and commerce. It is known he has taken much pains to conciliate the commercial nations, particularly the English, who enjoy a principal part of the trade of his people. He lately sent one of his aids to Admiral Popham, at Jamaica, to announce his succession, and to assure the English merchants of the perfect security of their large property at Port-au-Prince, Jaquemet and Aux-Cayes; and he has announced that he has shut his ports against the Spanish independent flag.

Sir Robert Wilson, so famous for his "varanals, and for his conduct in rescuing La-volette from prison, has been elected a member of parliament. In an address to his constituents he informed them, that he should make the following the rules of his parliamentary conduct;

- 1st. That an idle man was a very useless animal.
- 2d. That a man in power should never go to sleep without thinking of those who are awake.
- 3d. That before he eats his dinner, he should reflect that there are many who would like to dine with him; and
- 4th. That when he walked along the streets, he should never forget that there were some who could not walk, because they were in rags.

All this may be very profound; but Sir Robert had better have some interpreter in his train, to explain his rules to common capacities. [Ibid.]

The increase of Bible Societies in the British dominions, and the diffusion of the scriptures by other means, has nearly realized the wish expressed long since by the British King, "that he hoped to live to see the day, when every poor child in his dominions should know how to read the Bible, and have a Bible to read."

A NEW INTERVIEW WITH THE SEA-SERPENT.
[A very particular and interesting account.]
Gloucester, Aug. 15, 1818.

Mr. Cushing—Having been an unbeliever of the existence of a Sea Serpent on our coast, from the time that he was first noticed to the present week, my doubts have been compelled to yield to stubborn facts, of which I was an eye witness. Returning from Newburyport into Squam Harbor, on Wednesday last, in a chebeco bar, where we had been for the purpose of obtaining fishing bait, and having failed of getting a supply, we were in hopes of taking some on our passage; and when off Chebeco bar, it being perfectly calm, we discovered somewhat at the distance of a mile or more, which we were in hopes was a shoal of bait, making a great agitation on the smooth surface of the water; it seemed to approach us rapidly, but as it came nearer we were convinced we had been in an error, and that what we took for a shoal of black fish was nothing less than the bunches on the back of the celebrated Sea Serpent! He made directly for the boat until he came within fifty yards; he then sunk under water, and we were much alarmed lest he should rise under us, as we had no power of getting from him, we lying becalmed; when he came up he was 30 feet from us; we had then a perfect and distinct view of this Monster of the deep; his head was elevated from 3 to 5 feet; the distance was about 6 feet from his neck to the first bunch; we counted 20 bunches, and we supposed them on an average, about 5 feet apart, and his whole length could not be less than 120 feet. When we first saw him, there appeared a rippling in the water, which made a noise not much unlike water running rapidly over loose pebbles. On his nearer approach, when we knew it to be the serpent, we imagined it to proceed from his mouth, and it appeared as though he was hissing; but on his nearing still more, we found it proceeded from the ripple made by the bunches on his back; it was twelve o'clock, noon, when we saw him; the weather was clear and the sea smooth, and no deception could have been made; his head was of a dark brown color, formed like a seal's, and shined with a glossy appearance; he seemed to be indifferent as to us, and went a steady course for Rye Beach, about N. by W. and we lost sight of him at about 4 miles distance. Mr. Joseph Chase, of Brunswick, N. H. and two lads, were with me in the boat, and saw him as distinctly as myself; his body was of the size of a 60 or 80 gallon cask, his head as large as a barrel, for we could see it when he was about four miles from us. I believe he was perfectly harmless, and might easily be caught; nearly all the time that he was in sight, his head was elevated more or less above water—there was nothing that appeared like fins or gills; we did not discern his tail; there was a quick vibration of the parts we saw, which probably was his mode of swimming.

TIMOTHY HODGKINS.
Mr. Timothy Hodgkins, who relates the above, is about 50 years of age, has for the most part of his life followed the sea, and is entitled to credit.

Yours, W. S.
16th.—The Serpent has been seen for several hours this morning, near Squam Light-House, by a great many persons, some of whom were within 20 feet of him, and agree in the above description, excepting that his head nearly resembled that of a land serpent's, and when he was at rest no bunches appeared.

LETTERS FROM ASIA.
Extract from a series of letters, written by an American gentleman while in Asia, to his friend in Boston. The writer unfortunately died by the plague, on his passage from Alexandria, in Egypt, to Constantinople, in a Grecian vessel.

[No. 8.]
The Bazaars are covered streets lined on each side with merchandise. Those occupied by the Greeks, Armenians and Jews, display at one view, a portion of the manufactures of every nation. At first sight, one would suppose them immense warehouses; but on closer investigation it will be found, that divided into a great number of small shops, each contains within a quantity of those articles that are exposed as patterns and samples on the outside. The effect produced is delightful; jewelry, furs, pelisses, Persian silks and Cashmere shawls, together with the innumerable productions of Europe, gratify the eye—while perfumes brought from every part of the eastern continent, render the air extremely fragrant.

In the countenances of the owners, however, every thing that is base and contemptible may be seen, forming as great a variety, although of a less pleasing nature, as their articles of traffic. The Jews always refer you to one of their sect, provided they have not the article enquired for, and consider cheating the remainder of their fellow tradesmen as a part of their profession. They are not so much to be blamed when we consider, that they were to be honest, few would be willing to give them the deserved praise. On the other hand, the Greeks, and some few of the Armenians, commit the same act, and cover their villainy under the mask of religion.

The Bazaars occupied by the Turks, are in that part of the city called Turktown, and as the votaries of our religion have not been suffered to reside in that quarter, neither has our vice or dishonesty made its appearance here. Riches in equal profusion are displayed in their shops, unattended by their owners, and exposed to the multitude, without any dread of robbery. I questioned one of the Turks, through my interpreter, on the policy of leaving property thus exposed, it being, as I considered, an encouragement to dishonesty. His answer, although severe, was just—"We have no thieves among us!"

On benches covered with carpets and cushions, the proprietors sit cross-legged, amusing themselves, when not asleep, by smoking, drinking, coffee or sherbet, and playing with their long beards, or furs with which their dresses are decorated; each has, however, a string of beads which seem a favorite play thing; not to remind them of their prayers, as among Catholics, but merely by way of variety in beguiling time, while slaves are replenishing their pipes.

The Egyptian Bazar is regarded with dread by every Christian, as the plague is frequently contained in sales of merchandise brought from Africa; and in walking through or near the entrance, the utmost care is taken not to allow any part of the garment to come in contact with its contents.

There is also a Bazar expressly for the sale of women, into which no Christian is allowed to enter. From Georgia, Circassia, and other parts of Asia, they are conveyed to Constantinople. Those found unseemly are brought to Smyrna, where they are purchased by the Turks, and although slaves, are considered as wives, and are treated, as far as I can learn, with equal kindness. There is value in estimated weight, beauty being considered of minor importance; and should one be found possessing an extraordinary quantity of flesh, she may rest satisfied that her journey will not extend beyond the capital.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Alexandria Academy, held on the 21st of August, 1818—

The following Address to the citizens of the town, was adopted by the Board, and ordered to be published.

The trustees of the Alexandria Academy, impressed in common with their fellow-citizens with the great and lasting importance of education, especially to a people whose fundamental principles of government are those of equal liberty, justice and order, on the support of which rest all our republican institutions, and from which our public as well as private happiness, have at different times made various efforts to place the Academy upon a more useful and respectable establishment, than it has heretofore been. They have with regret seen their well meant efforts fail, for want of that support which all who wish well to their beloved offspring ought to afford.

The trustees cannot continue their efforts to sustain the Academy, without other means than those they have heretofore possessed. They would therefore respectfully represent to their fellow-citizens of the town, the necessity there is of some effort on their part to enable the trustees to make such a change in the house and institution, as will render them generally useful.

The form of the house is inconvenient: it is in such a state of decay as to be unfit for use, and is a discredit to the town. The institution requires certain necessary apparatus, and additional instructors. To effect these objects, funds are necessary, which cannot, as experience has clearly shown, be raised solely from the price of tuition.

It is confidently believed that the trustees in making this appeal to the parental feelings and liberality of the citizens of the town, will not appear in vain, especially when they reflect, that by placing the Academy in their own town on a respectable footing, they will be relieved in a great measure from the necessity of sending their children to distant places for instruction, at a much greater expense than that at which they could be educated at home, and in too many instances at the very dear price of the loss of their moral principles.

The law incorporating the Academy declares that all persons, and their respective heirs, who shall contribute five pounds to the use of the Academy, shall have the right to vote at all elections of trustees.

Trusting that every citizen who values the blessing of education, the good of society, and the happiness and respectability of his children, will contribute liberally towards so desirable an object, the trustees have appointed some of their own body to wait upon their fellow-citizens with a subscription paper for that purpose.

Advertisement.

ABSCONDED from the subscriber's service, on Saturday night the 15th inst. Negro woman TRACE or TRACY—she is five feet two or three inches high, about 30 years of age, of a very dark complexion, and when particularly examined is very apt to confound herself.—It is deemed unnecessary to mention her clothing, as she has all of them with her, and being extremely artful she no doubt will change them and endeavor to pass for a free woman. She is well acquainted in Charles county, Prince George's, Alexandria and the City, as about 5 years ago she made her escape, and was 6 or 7 months about the Lower Ferry, leading to Alexandria, and from thence to Washington City, where she acquired an extensive acquaintance among the Negroes belonging to John Brent, esq.; and the greater part of said Negroes belong now to William and Robert Brent, esqrs. and Mr. Dudley Digges. Negro Trace has a scar on the back part of her neck, occasioned by a scorpion put for the benefit of her eyes, which are very weak at this time. I will give 10 dollars if taken in the county and secured in jail, or if out of the county and secured as aforesaid, so that I get her again, 25 dollars, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home. All persons are forewarned harboring or employing said Negro at their peril, as the law will be rigorously put in force against any offender.

WASHINGTON DRANE

RESPECTFULLY informs his friends and the public generally, that he has opened a house of entertainment at his new building, on the road leading from Georgetown to Leesburg, 15 miles from the former, and 15 miles from the latter place.—The house and furniture are new and elegant, and every attendance and requisite have been provided for the accommodation of either parties of pleasure or persons on business. There is an excellent spring of water on the place, excellent perhaps by none in the state of Virginia. The distance from Georgetown, Washington or Alexandria, being an agreeable ride, he anticipates a share of public patronage, which he hopes his assiduity to business will justify.

Exchange & Broker's Office.

Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS,

At his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes, on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks.—The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on.

50 Dollars Reward.

ABSCONDED on Saturday morning, the 15th inst. negro George, or George Griffin, the property of Miss McCall, by trade a hatter, and understands some part of the blacksmith's business; he is about 30 years of age, 5 feet 7 inches high, stout made, very black complexion, large eyes and mouth, with thick lips. He is a very artful fellow and has been in the habit of outwitting himself as a free man, and will no doubt attempt to pass as such, and probably get work—has a down look when spoken to.—His clothes not recollected, having various suits.

A reward of 10 dollars will be given if taken in the town or county, 20 in the county of Washington or Fairfax, or the above reward if taken 50 miles from town, with all reasonable charges if brought home.

Masters of vessels are cautioned against harboring or carrying off said runaway, as they will be dealt with according to law.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.
IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.
THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.
All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phenomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute. But, the more so much theoretical speculation—so much abstract calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.
Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavored to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.
The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo. THOMAS COOPER, M. D. CONDITIONS.
I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.
II. It will be illustrated with a number of cuts, of which several have been necessarily added to the London edition.
III. It will be delivered to subscribers at $12—to non-subscribers at $14, in boards. The London edition sells for $18.

James Kennedy & Son, RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES: Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges.

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or gripping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebra or large round worm; the Ascarides or small raw-worm; the Cucurbitina or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenuis or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers is recommended HARRY'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

To the friends of Humanity.

A N aged, infirm, and widowed mother, is desirous to receive information of THOMAS BURTON CARTER, an only son, concerning whom she has not heard anything, on which reliance can be placed, for nearly three years. He removed from this place to the state of Ohio about five years ago. The last certain account she had from him, was from Cadiz in that state. He is about twenty five years of age; by trade a tailor. Vague rumour has recently pronounced him dead. A letter communicating information relative to him, directed to Henry Tatwiler, P. M. at this place, would confer a peculiar kindness on an afflicted woman.
Editors of Newspapers generally, are interested to give this article a place in their columns a few weeks.

RAN away from the subscriber's farm, near Piscataway, Md on or about the 1st day of March, 1818, a dark mulatto man named Nicky, five feet ten or eleven inches high, slender made, a little deaf, speaks a little through his nose, has been in the habit of wearing rings in his ears, but may have taken them out to avoid discovery. Said negro Nick has a wife on Mr. Thomas A. Diggs's land, near Fort Washington, and is probably harbored in that neighborhood. I will give the above reward of Thirty Dollars, if taken out of the State of Maryland, and Twenty if taken in the State more than ten miles from home—if within ten miles of home, Ten Dollars.
